Team-Building Experiences

Unite your team through the joy of collective electronic music-making!

Music has the power to unite people across cultural, language and generational divides.

Harness the creative energy of Berlin's celebrated electronic music scene for your team through a unique and non-competitive music-making workshop, where participants of all levels make and share music in a supportive and empowering environment.

From collective music-making rooted in play and movement, to creative experiences where your team will make their very own dance tracks, a variety of workshop formats are available, tailored to your team's size and needs. No prior knowledge of music-making or experience necessary.

Bespoke experiences are also available upon request.

Unite your team and give your colleagues the chance to shine through the joy of collective electronic music making!

Team Building Workshops:

Music & Movement

In this workshop, participants collaborate in small groups to record their own simple sounds, which then collectively contribute to the production and performance of an evolving dance track.

Number of participants: 15 - 100

Duration: 90 minutes - 2 hours

Location: In-person, on- or off-site

Skills needed: none

Price: Upon request

Music Production Lab

Through two hours of music-making, participants will create their own short electronic tracks, learning about the basics of audio-production through supported experimentation and play. They will then share the music they've made in a celebratory and non-critical listening session with their colleagues.

Number of participants: up to 14

Duration: 4 - 5 hours

Location: Online or In-person, on- or off-site

Skills needed: none

Price: Upon request
